Services

EDUCATION

Our annual and regional meetings promote networking, communication, and best practices in chiropractic regulation. At FCLB, we believe an informed regulator is the only way to have a fair regulator.

INFORMATION

FCLB serves as a clearinghouse of information about chiropractic licensure. From license verification links to scope of practice for every member board, all of this and more is available on the FCLB website at fclb.org.

CENTRALIZATION

Redundant workloads are a poor use of licensing boards' time, and duplicate inquiries and submissions are a waste of stakeholders' time. FCLB works to centralize these redundant processes through targeted, streamlined programs that consolidate projects through single, volunteer task forces.

About Us

Founded in 1926, the FCLB serves chiropractic licensing boards by centralizing regulatory services and promoting education for regulators. Through FCLB, our member boards have established high, uniform standards for chiropractic licensure, regulation, discipline, and continuing education.

FCLB is a 501(c)3 and our membership is voluntary and available to chiropractic licensing boards throughout the world.

Programs

Screening Continuing Education—PACEX.fclb.org

Providers of Approved Continuing Education – Chiropractic (PACE) pre-screens CE programs, drastically slashing paperwork and offering automatic approval for CE in many jurisdictions.

Tracking Board Actions

The Chiropractic Information Network – Board Action Databank (CIN-BAD) tracks and stores all public records of board actions issued by US chiropractic licensing boards.

Whether it's unprofessional conduct, or felony convictions, you can check possible employees, vacation fill-ins, or association board members and make an informed decision.

Certifying the Professional Status of Chiropractic Assistants

When chiropractic assistants earn their Certified Chiropractic Clinical Assistants (CCCA) status, they are taking a step toward nationwide certification and a higher standard of care.

State licensing boards hold doctors of chiropractic accountable for their chiropractic assistants' actions. When assistants lack the training to carry out their responsibilities with competence, patients suffer.

CCCA creates a uniform, basic standard of training and competence for patient protection and offers professional status for CAs who take their responsibilities seriously, and for patients who want the highest standard of care.
